UX Research & Wireframing

An Industry Project

Background

The project was done for a B2B business based out of Kolkata, called Crazebazaar. During my tenure as the UI/UX designer, I have conducted the research to build an efficient user experience following which I created the wireframes.

Objectives My Role: Create Vendor Onboarding Screens.

Importance Of Vendor Boarding Screens.

Vendors would be registering their companies products for sale online. In the Indian market vendors are not always tech-savy. Hence, the screens were made for easier operation and management of the vendors. A thorough research of the on-going online market practices have been done as well.

My Role In The Project

Competitor Tracking

Wireframes

Part 1

- Understanding The Process of Adding Products Through Other Brands
- Wireframes For Bulk Listing Of Products.
- Wireframes For Single Listing Of Products.

Transfer Option

The transfer option is used when the products are moved from one place to another. It is very helpful and used widely on eCommerce sites.

In the inventory of transfer section, you can find and manage the inventory. You need to create a transfer for generating it and add products from here.

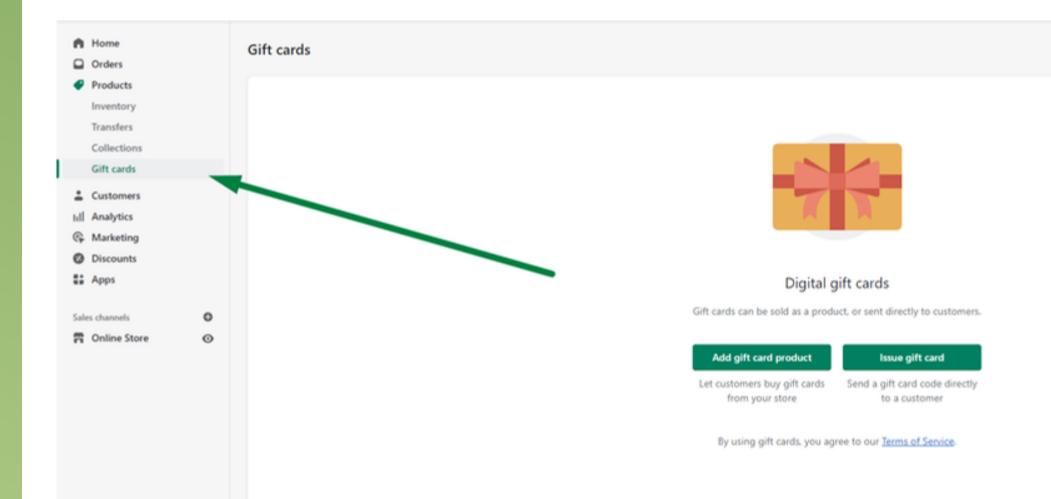

When a user is looking for a number of products from a location, but only a limited number of that product is available at that store, this feature is used.
